Tim Lazarus Hired as Corporate Controller

WILLIAMSVILLE, NEW YORK – We are pleased to announce that Tim Lazarus was hired as our Corporate Controller in May 2011. Mr. Lazarus, an accredited CPA, began working for Ernst & Young after graduating from Canisius College with his accounting degree. He joins us from a Buffalo-based commercial construction company and real estate developer where he worked as the Controller and Director of Operations. In his new position with The Hamister Group, Inc., he will be responsible for the finance and accounting operations of the corporate office and two divisions of the company, which include 14 managed businesses.

The Hamister Group, Inc. is a leader in health care and hotel management, with over 30 years of experience and a solid management portfolio in the eastern United States. For more information, visit
